TO DEDICATE COUNTY CHURCH

Lutheran Church at Biglerville, after Extensive Improvements and Additions, will be Dedicated on Sunday April 27.

St. Paul's Lutheran church, Biglerville, will be dedicated Sunday, April 27th.

Extensive improvements have been made including an addition of 50 x 40 feet to be used as a Sunday School room, and a basement of the same dimensions for social purposes. A new and massive tower has been built up on the outside. The audience room is remodeled, carpeted throughout and tastefully decorated. New cathedral stained glass windows, are in place, two gable windows with life size figures, one "Christ Knocking at the Door" and the other "Christ the Good Shepherd". Other improvements are new pews, pulpit furniture, and a steam heating plant. All is finely completed and ready for occupancy. The people who have so faithfully supported these improvements are eagerly awaiting the opening services.

The St. Paul's congregation was organized as part of the Bendersville charge, March 27th, 1881, during the pastorate of Rev. W. L. Heisler, with a membership of twenty-one. It has enjoyed a steady and healthy growth, and today has an enrollment of over two hundred. The first church edifice was commenced on the present site in the same year and dedicated the year following.

The Sunday School was organized May 21st, 1892, with an enrollment of forty. It, too, has enjoyed a steady growth and will enter its new quarters with an enrollment of over two hundred and fifty.

In the year 1889 during the pastorate of Rev. S. A. Hankey, D. D., considerable improvements were made, costing about $800.00. Also in 1908 during the pastorate of Rev. S. A. Diehl.

About a year ago at the joint council of the Bendersville charge it was decided to form two pastorate, Bethlehem at Bendersville, and St. James at Wrensville forming one and retaining the name "Bendersville Charge". St. Paul's at Biglerville, and Benders' Lutheran forming the other and adopting the name "Biglerville Charge". This new charge has recently purchased a parsonage, a very valuable and beautifully located brick residence, on Penn street, just opposite the church.

The re-opening service will begin Wednesday evening, April 23d, at 7:30. This is to be prayer meeting night, when it is desired to have the largest attendance of any prayer meeting in the history of the congregation. Thursday evening Rev. C. W. Baker, of New Oxford, will preach, and Friday evening Rev. D. T. Koser, of Arendtsville, will occupy the pulpit, Saturday at 7:30 p. m., Sunday at 10 a. m., and 7:30 p. m., Rev. George M. Diffenderfer, D. D., of Carlisle, President of the West Pennsylvania Synod, will be the speaker. The public are cordially invited to enjoy these services.

DEER A NUISANCE

Deer Become a Nuisance for Some Farmers on the Mountain.

The deer from the state reserve near the White Pine sanitarium are still eating up the grain for some farmers. They have destroyed three acres of wheat and a like amount of rye for Charles Carbaugh and a number of fields for George Naugle and others, who are contemplating asking for legal relief. As many as fourteen deer have been in Mr. Carbaugh's field at one time, nibbling at the grain. If this keeps on some people will ask that the carefully protected deer be declared a nuisance.

MANGES-BLOCHER HOME WEDDING

Rev. Edmund Manges and Miss Grace Blocher Married at Pretty Home Wedding. Ceremony Performed by Groom's Father.

At noon to-day Miss M. Grace Blocher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Blocher, of Carlisle street, and Rev. Edmund L. Manges, of Champaign, Illinois, were married at the home of the bride by Rev. Edmund Manges, of Oakland, Maryland, assisted by Dr. George M. Diffenderfer, of Carlisle.

The ceremony was performed in the parlor, and the room, together with other parts of the house, was beautifully decorated with pink Killarney roses, ferns and smilax. The bride and groom, who were unattended, stood before a huge bank of flowers and ferns and the double ring service was used.

Miss Blocher wore a gown of duchess satin made with train, and trimmed with duchess lace and brilliants. She wore a veil, caught with sweet peas and brilliants, and carried a shower bouquet of white and pink sweet peas.

An informal reception followed the ceremony and during the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Manges left on a wedding trip to Washington, Baltimore and other cities. The bride's going away costume was a suit of navy blue serge. They will be guests at the wedding of Mr. Manges' brother in Baltimore on Saturday.

Upon the return from their honeymoon they will be at home in Champaign where Mr. Manges is pastor of a Lutheran church and also college pastor at the University of Illinois. Both bride and groom graduated from Gettysburg College in the class of 1908 and Mr. Manges finished his course at the local Seminary three years later.

Among the guests from out of town were: Rev. and Mrs. Edmund Manges, Miss Anna Manges, of Oakland, Maryland; Miss Corinne Manges and Dr. Willis Manges, Philadelphia; Dr. and Mrs. Lewis Manges, Harrisburg; Miss Catharine Manges, Mrs. George Smith and son Richard, Miss Lillian Quickel and Luther D. Menough, York; Miss Elizabeth Alwelt, Hanover; Rev. and Mrs. G. M. Diffenderfer, Miss Elizabeth McLaughlin and Mervin Diehl, of Carlisle; Miss Sara Brumbaugh, Roaring Spring; Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Diehl, of New Oxford.

GOOD CONCERT

College Clubs Give Home Coming Concert in Brua Chapel.

The Gettysburg College musical clubs gave their home-coming concert in Brua Chapel on Wednesday evening in the presence of a very appreciative audience. The sketch "Precious Peggy", which was given at many places on their recent trip was not produced here but a full musical program was substituted and the boys demonstrated fully that the college has better musical talent than for a number of years. The solos by Mr. Diehl on the clarinet, Mr. Lotz on the violin, and Mr. Bongartz on the cello, deserve special mention while the glee and mandolin clubs and orchestra were all good. The program was of a rather "heavy" character—possibly more so than is desired where a college organization is involved.

IMPROVE TOWN ON CLEAN-UP DAY

Suggest that People Take Municipal House Cleaning Day for Improving General Appearance of their Properties.

That the spring house cleaning day which will be conducted on May 8 under the direction of the town council may be more than a mere clean-up of rubbish and debris, which has collected about town during the past year, is the hope of those who inaugurated the idea of this annual custom.

It is now suggested that, while the borough highway force is busy removing this matter which people are asked to put in the alleys the afternoon previous, citizens shall devote their time to making their places more attractive by cleaning up the exterior of their residences, possibly by making some repairs or in some of the many other ways which will suggest themselves, making their own particular properties more presentable.

With general co-operation in this line it is believed that the town can be put into very reasonable shape before the Odd Fellows' convention which opens on Tuesday, May 20, and that the town will then continue so over Memorial Day, college commencement, Sons of Veterans and Grand Army encampments up to the time of the fiftieth anniversary celebration in July.

All agree that the town should present its very best appearance this summer and a general plan looking toward that end will be adopted, it is hoped, by those interested in the progress and prosperity of Gettysburg.

FOR STATE FAIR

Appropriations Committee Hears Arguments in Favor of the Bill.

The advantages of a State fair for the whole State was urged before the House appropriations committee by several men who are seeking to give Pennsylvania a State exhibit. The opposition to the bill comes from men who are interested in little fairs and who fear their profits may be decreased.

The bill was heard by most of the members of the committee and it was pointed out by representatives of State fairs in Ohio and New York that such fairs are not only self-supporting but profit making and that they aid the small county fairs by establishing a place where the best of the smaller fairs can be assembled and rivalry encouraged in produce.

SCARLET FEVER

TELLS OF LIFE ON THE STAGE

Applause Helps a Lot Says Local Actor after Tour through Southern States. Interesting Experiences on the Road.

Erney Ziegler, one of the few Gettysburgians to attain success on the professional stage, is enjoying a brief rest here preparatory to going on the road again as villain with the "Down in Dixie" company and he has been entertaining many of his friends with his experiences during his recent trip through the South. Mr. Ziegler says: "Before I went on the stage", as they say, I had often heard the theory that a play is well or poorly produced largely as the size and the feeling of the audience are favorable or otherwise. I never believed it, but now I know better. A big house and a sympathetic audience make a play 'go better' by two hundred per cent. than empty seats and people who don't seem to 'get into' the show. When every seat is taken and you feel that your audience is lost in the work of the cast, that they are in sympathy with the hero, hate the villain and want to see the heroine happy ever after, then you can do your best.

"During my recent trip through the South we played to good business almost everywhere but found the people very slow to show any feeling. Applause is not often indulged in but we somehow knew that we had our people with us and our play went well. The negroes are the ones to clap the noble sentiments and to hiss the villain and, I being 'it', I was the one who got the hisses. Every night, six nights in the week for three months, I met the fate of being dragged out to be 'hanged by the neck until dead'. Of course it was in the fourth act. You can't afford to kill the villain too early in the show. The more hisses the villain gets the better he feels but a little applause now and then helps a lot. Remember this the next time you go to a play.

"Producing a drama, as we did, there was little opportunity for anything unusual to happen among our audiences but I remember one incident in a Tennessee town that halted our play for a full five minutes. Our comedian had a song in which he introduced a number of local hits. Before singing it he always announced that it was the composition of some one in the audience. At this particular place the person credited with the song jumped up in his seat, shook his hand at the singer and vowed vengeance on him declaring he had never written the song and wouldn't stand for it. Friends had great difficulty in quieting him and we found afterward that every troupe that came to the town was given instructions to play some joke on the man with the result that he had gotten pretty well worked up.

"Our next trip will be through entirely different territory and we will have another class of people whom we hope to entertain. We will spend several months in the New England States and Eastern Canada."

Asked whether he intended to make the stage his life-work, Mr. Ziegler said, "No hardly. I may not go out after this year. It isn't much fun at the one night stand business to get up at 3 a. m., and start on a two hundred mile trip for the next town and, although it is a good way to see the country, it gets tiresome and I prefer settling down."

POPE VERY WEAK, END IS NEAR

Papal Lawyer Summoned to Draw Up Will.

HIS FEVER AGAIN LOWER

Pontiff's Coughing Spell Continues, and Despite a Slight Rally His Condition is Worse.

Rome, April 17.—The latest report of the physicians in attendance upon the pope shows that he has rallied slightly from his critical condition.

His holiness is very weak, but his fever has abated and his temperature is only half a degree above normal.

The cough, which caused great alarm and which at one time almost caused suffocation, still troubles the pontiff.

If his illness continues in its present course the pope will probably grow weaker each day. Even if the bronchial affection does not develop into actual pneumonia, it is doubtful how long the constitution of the patient can hold out.

A bulletin by Drs. Marchisavi and Amici says: "His holiness passed a quiet night, without fever. His temperature was 98½. The catarrhal and bronchial affection is still in the same condition."

The coughing spell which almost caused suffocation was followed by such exhaustion that those attending the pontiff feared the worst. His temperature varied frequently.

Two regiments of infantry are in the barracks near the Vatican to do police duty in St. Peter's square on the death of the pope when the cardinals and diplomats are summoned.

That Pope Pius realizes that he has small chance of surviving his illness was made evident when he insisted upon receiving all of his personal attendants in order that he might speak to them for perhaps the last time.

The physicians reluctantly consented to the pope's wish, but they limited the number to be admitted to the sick room and also fixed the time for each of the visits, which were made singly.

Among those who went to the pontiff's bedside and heard his beloved voice for the last time were the gardeners, the cooks and the cooks. As they neared the pope they fell upon their knees, while the pope spoke a few words to each, thanking them for their long service and then giving them the apostolic blessing. Tears brimmed the eyes of all the pontiff's retainers as they sadly left the pope's apartment.

When Pope Pius was bishop of Venice many of the domestics were with him. Later when he became patriarch of Venice and cardinal he retained most of them and brought them to Rome when he was made pope.

Patriarch, the lawyer, who represents the Holy See, was summoned to the Vatican. The same lawyer drew up the last testament of Pope Leo XIII, and the inference is that he has been asked to do the same for Pope Pius X.

Patriarch was summoned after Professor Marchisavi, the pope's physician, had a long conference with Cardinal Merry del Val, the papal secretary of state. Earlier the pope's sisters entered the Vatican and were received by Monsignor Parolin, the pope's nephew, who held them waiting in an ante chamber until the doctors had ended their visit.

CONFESSES MURDER

Cripple Admits Killing Man in Free-For-All Fight.

Pottsville, Pa., April 17.—Joseph Bingo, a cripple, charged with the murder of James Holland, at Middletown last week, who since the crime has stoutly protested his innocence when arraigned before Justice F. S. Freiler at this place and confronted with a network of evidence against him, broke down and admitted that he did the killing.

He confessed that he stabbed Holland to death in a shanty near Tower City on Monday a week ago, during a free-for-all fight. Bingo declares that Holland rushed at him and that he stabbed him in the abdomen in self-defense, the victim of the butcher knife, which he used, dyed almost instantly. Since the crime Bingo has been in the county prison awaiting a hearing.

$10,000 to Oil Streets.

Pottsville, Pa., April 17.—Attracted by the cheap price of crude oil, Pottsville borough council has for the past three years oiled the principal streets of this town, but councilmen were staggered when they were informed that it would cost $10,000 to do the work this year, and as this would necessitate an increase in the tax rate the councilmen are undecided what action to take.

A Town That Dates From the Flood.

Iconium, or Konia, as it is better known today, in Asia Minor, 300 miles east of Smyrna, held by some archaeologists to be the oldest city in the world, derived its name from the elkones, or images of mud, which, according to the ancient legend of the place, were made by Prometheus and Athena at the command of Jupiter.

Who, after the flood, caused the winds to blow upon the elkones and they became living men and women. Thus, according to this tradition, Iconium was the first place settled after the flood.

Legislator Tried to Sell Vote.

Concord, N. H., April 17.—Clifford L. Snow, member of the house of representatives from Manchester, was expelled from that body, the vote of his former associates being 119 against expulsion and 175 in favor. The action was taken on recommendation of a special committee of investigation which found Snow guilty of offering to sell his vote on several specific occasions, once to a candidate for senator other than Senator Hollis.

Scrub the rind of twelve lemons and make three or four lengthwise slits in each lemon. Fill these slits with salt and let the fruit stand in an earthen dish for a week, turning them every day in the brine that forms. Remove the lemons and add to the brine a quart of cider vinegar, one pepper and an ounce of green ginger root cut small. Boil the liquid, skim and cool it and pour it over the lemons. Seal in glass jars.

DEMOCRATIC CAUCUS VOTES FOR FREE WOOL

Defeat Amendment to Place Duty on Raw Material.

Washington, April 17.—The Democratic caucus voted decisively to support the wool schedule of the Underwood tariff bill, placing raw wool on the free list, after Representative Underwood had made a stirring appeal for the support of the caucus.

By a vote of 190 to 42 an amendment offered by Representative Dies, of Texas, to place raw wool on the dutiable list, was rejected.

The amendment proposed to place a duty of 15 per cent ad valorem on raw wool. Representative Dies and other champions of dutiable wool insisting that this was the judgment of the ways and means committee before President Wilson saw the bill and suggested the change.

Majority Leader Underwood, in winding up the discussion, warmly defended both the committee and the president. He declared that the president had a right to make suggestions to congress relating to the tariff, but that the bill as a whole met with the chief executive's approval when he first read it as it came from the committee.

"Out of four thousand and more items in the bill," said Mr. Underwood, "the president only made two suggestions, those affecting the sugar and wool schedules. It seems to me that we should accept those suggestions from the president of the United States."

Before reaching the wool schedule the caucus disposed of the cotton and flax schedules, voting down all amendments to lower or increase the duties proposed in the committee bill.

A hard fight was made by the Pennsylvania members to secure adequate protection for the textile industry in the eastern part of the state, particularly in Philadelphia, but without success. Only one slight concession was granted the Pennsylvanians when the request for a higher duty on knitted goods was referred to committee in lieu of being summarily voted down.

SHOT TO DEATH IN STREET

Bullet Riddled Body Found in Dunmore and Black Hand Suspected.

Scranton, Pa., April 17.—What is thought to be another Black Hand murder case came to light with the discovery of the bullet riddled body of Cataldo Contano, twenty-six years old, on Cooney street, Dunmore, with in the shadow of St. Mary's Catholic church.

Bullets of three different calibers have been abstracted from some of the wounds, and the authorities think Contano was fired upon from opposite directions by two or more gunmen.

The investigators are in the dark as to the motive, but inasmuch as intrigues in the Dunmore Italian colony have resulted in several murders in the last year they are inclined to attribute the present crime to the same cause.

WEATHER CHIEF IS DISMISSED

Willis L. Moore Charged With Irregularities.

SECRETLY TRIED, HIS REPLY

Declares He Does Not Know Nature of Charges and Had No Opportunity to Defend Himself.

Washington, April 17.—Willis L. Moore, chief of the weather bureau, whose resignation has been in President Wilson's hands, to become effective July 31, was summarily removed from office, charged with "serious irregularities."

This announcement was made at the White House while a conference was in progress between Secretary of Agriculture Houston and President Wilson.

Professor Moore declared that secret charges had been preferred against him, and that they had been secretly investigated. He had not seen a copy of these charges, he said, had no opportunity to investigate them, and had no opportunity to examine the witnesses who had testified against him. No opportunity had been given him to defend himself, he declared.

"I have been treated like a prisoner exiled to Siberia," said the former weather chief.

From time to time charges against Moore had been made in congress, but nothing ever came of them.

Professor Willis Luther Moore has been chief of the United States weather bureau since 1895. The announcement that he had resigned, by request, was made March 21, the resignation to take effect July 31.

At that time it was said several reasons had induced President Wilson and Secretary of Agriculture Houston to decide that Professor Moore's services were thus to be terminated, but the chief cause was said to be the activity shown in behalf of Moore's candidacy for the agricultural portfolio in President Wilson's cabinet.

Professor Moore early in life was a printer, and he is a member of a typographical labor union. Shortly after President Wilson's election many petitions from labor unions were received urging Moore for the head of the agricultural department.

The president was said to be convinced that these petitions were the result of a widespread campaign engineered by Moore, and he began to make inquiries as to Moore's record in the weather bureau and his general standing. He apparently felt that Moore was giving more attention to politics than he was to the business of the bureau.

Information reached the president also that Professor Moore had utilized the services of weather bureau employees in obtaining endorsements for the secretaryship.

Mr. Moore was born at Scranton, Pa., in January, 1856. When eight years old he sold papers with General Grant's army at City Point. He entered the signal corps, now the weather bureau, when a young man, and rose through various grades to chief of the weather bureau.

In 1894 he was made a professor of meteorology. Professor Moore has been president of the National Geographical society and is a member of several societies and clubs. He is the author of "Moore's Descriptive Meteorology." His residence is at Rockville, Md.

NOW SOLD IN AMERICA

In Less Than Five Years, Parisian Sage, the Splendid Hair Tonic, is Sold All Over America.

There is a reason for the phenomenal sale of Parisian Sage in the United States during the past three years. And the reason is plain to all: Parisian Sage does just what it is advertised to do.

Ask People's Drug Store about it, they will tell you that they rigidly guarantee it to cure dandruff, stop falling hair or itching scalp in two weeks or money back.

There is no reason whatever why any man or woman should fail to take advantage of the above generous offer.

But one thing that has made Parisian Sage so famous is its peculiar power to turn harsh, unattractive hair that many women possess into luxuriant and radiant hair in a short time. Women of refinement the country over are using it and it never disappoints.

Sold by druggists everywhere, and by People's Drug Store for 50 cents a large bottle.

257,000 ON STRIKE IN BELGIUM

Only Small Amount of Coal on Hand to Run Railroads.

Brussels, Belgium, April 17.—A statement issued by the ministry of the interior admits that 257,000 men have joined the national political strike of the Belgian workers, who have chosen this means of forcing the grant of "manhood suffrage" and the abolition of the system by which the wealthy citizens are given plural voting power. The Socialist leaders say the strikers number more than 400,000.

It is said that the Belgian government has only a small supply of coal to run the state railroads. This supply is likely to be exhausted by the end of the week, thus crippling transport facilities. Lack of fuel will also cause the stoppage of many electric and gas plants and prevent many thousand non-strikers from working.

Emile Vandervelde, the Socialist leader, completed an automobile tour of the provinces of Hainaut and Namur. He summed up his observations as follows: "All business is stagnated throughout the industrial district. Of the 268,000 workmen in the two provinces 163,000 are striking."

Campbell's release is due to a feeling that he was the least guilty of the men. At the time of the murder Campbell was only twenty-two years of age.

MOTHERS PENSION UP TO GOVERNOR

The Senate Concurs in House Amendments.

THE VOTE WAS UNANIMOUS

Measure Will Not Become a Law Until Sixty Days After Governor Signs it.

Harrisburg, Pa., April 17.—By a vote of 41 to 0 the senate concurred in the amendments to the Sheatz bill providing pensions for mothers for maintenance of indigent children at home.

The bill passed the house Tuesday, amended in one of the sections to make the appointment of trustees by the governor annual. Under the original provisions of the act there was no time limit for service of trustees.

Other amendments struck out the word "section" as the title to divisions of the bill, but did not alter the effect. The senate had passed the measure in its original form, and it now goes to the governor. It bears the number 23, but Senator Sheatz does not believe this an ill omen.

The bill will not become a law until sixty days after the governor signs it. It provides for state payments to a mother of a monthly sum, in some cases $10 or $12, for the support of a child.

The Sheatz bill provides monthly payment to indigent, widowed or abandoned mothers for partial support of their children in their state homes. The measure proposes a state appropriation for the maintenance of such children, the cities betheling to contribute an amount equal to the allotment by the state.

The bill would override the act of May 31, 1907, over which a controversy arose in the juvenile court in Philadelphia before Judge Kinsey, when the question was argued whether the present law could be so construed as to allow the county to pay for the support of three indigent children at their home instead of making them public dependents in an institution.

The new bill provides that the governor shall appoint not fewer than five nor more than seven women residents of the cities of the first, second and third class, to act as trustees to carry the act into effect.

The bill proposes an appropriation of $100,000 by the state, $30,000 of which would be available for Philadelphia, the bill providing that first class cities shall receive this amount. Philadelphia is the only first class city in the state. Thirty thousand dollars would be distributed among second class cities, and $40,000 among third class cities by the auditor general and state treasurer, according to the respective populations in the census of 1910.

Washington, April 17.—Smallpox is following in the wake of the rainy season in various sections of the country, and more particularly in the flood-d communities of the Ohio and Mississippi valleys.

Within the last few weeks several hundred cases have been reported to the public health service, and within the last few days it has become sufficiently prevalent in a number of communities to excite alarm.

An outbreak of twelve cases is reported at Jeffersonville, Ind.; twelve cases at Paducah, Ky.; four at Hickman, Ky., and six cases at Hermann, near Annapolis, Md.

A physician of the public health service was dispatched Monday to Martinsburg, W. Va., near which twelve cases were reported, and instructions were issued to representatives of the service in all sections where the disease has appeared to warn the state and local health authorities and to assist them in every manner possible to put it down.

The smallpox situation has suddenly developed into the worst in ten years, generally throughout the country. For several weeks it has been epidemic in sections of California and Oklahoma, in virulent form, and now it is becoming more general in the central states, although it appears there in milder form for the most part.

ADRIFF 48 HOURS AT SEA

Crew of Abandoned Schooner Lived on Juice of Canned Peaches.

New York, April 17.—The crew of the schooner Lottie Russell, which was abandoned seventy miles off Cape Henry on April 13, reached New York on the oil tank steamer Georgian Prince.

For forty-eight hours they had been adrift in the Atlantic, most of the time without food and in a small open boat, surrounded by sharks.

The schooner sailed from Charleston, S. C., for Philadelphia last Friday. Saturday morning she was hit by a terrific gale and soon became waterlogged. Nearly all the provisions were swept away, and as the cook could not leave the pumps the crew of seven men and the wife of the mate lived on a few mouthfuls of brine-soaked bread.

At 2 o'clock Sunday the vessel was abandoned. During the time the crew and the mate's wife were adrift in an open boat they had no water and lived by wetting their lips with the juice of canned peaches, of which they had a small quantity. The Georgian Prince was sighted and they were taken off last Monday.

ATE POISONOUS HERB; DIES

Man Who Also Swallowed Some Will Probably Recover.

Susquehanna, Pa., April 17.—Strolling on the shore of the Susquehanna river, near Linesboro, Miss Amy Burhight, thirty-five years old, and Albert Denny picked what they thought was arbutus and munched the leaves.

The couple became violently ill before returning from their walk, and the next day Miss Burhight died. The physicians say the supposed arbutus was in reality a poisonous herb, and that Miss Burhight unknowingly committed suicide by swallowing the juice of the leaves. Denny rallied from his illness and will probably recover.

ACCUSE WIRELESS OPERATOR

First Arrest in New England Under New Law.

Boston, April 17.—L. T. Hill, a student at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, was arrested on charge made by federal authorities of interference with radio messages sent out by naval and commercial stations.

This is the first arrest in New England since the enactment of the new federal wireless law. Hill pleaded not guilty, saying he was unaware that his small station was causing any interference with legitimate business.

Joseph Bruecker Plans to Start Dirigible From Canary Islands.

Las Palmas, Canary Islands, April 17.—The dirigible balloon Suchard II is ready for the adventurous voyage across the Atlantic, which Joseph Bruecker, formerly of Milwaukee, Wis., will try to make so soon as the weather is favorable for the start.

Provisions and water sufficient to last twenty-five days have been taken on board. Bruecker is convinced he will make Barbadoes or Trinidad before April 28.

Convicted Banker Pardoned.

Trenton, N. J., April 17.—Albert C. Twining was granted a full pardon by the court of pardons. Twining was convicted of fraud in connection with the failure of the First National bank, of Asbury Park, and the Monmouth Trust company. On Feb. 18, 1909, he entered the state prison after five years of fighting in the courts to begin a term of six years. His term would have expired next January.

The board of trade and grange of Billerica, Mass., are offering a prize of $1,000 for an authenticated yield of corn raised during the coming season that will surpass the present New England record, which is 112 bushels, a yield produced by a Connecticut farmer, L. S. White. If a New England town of 3,000 people can find it worth while to hang up such a prize as this it would seem as if most any town in the middle west and south west might do as well or better.

ATE POISONOUS HERB; DIES

Man Who Also Swallowed Some Will Probably Recover.

Susquehanna, Pa., April 17.—Strolling on the shore of the Susquehanna river, near Linesboro, Miss Amy Burhight, thirty-five years old, and Albert Denny picked what they thought was arbutus and munched the leaves.

The couple became violently ill before returning from their walk, and the next day Miss Burhight died. The physicians say the supposed arbutus was in reality a poisonous herb, and that Miss Burhight unknowingly committed suicide by swallowing the juice of the leaves. Denny rallied from his illness and will probably recover.

First Arrest in New England Under New Law.

Boston, April 17.—L. T. Hill, a student at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, was arrested on charge made by federal authorities of interference with radio messages sent out by naval and commercial stations.

This is the first arrest in New England since the enactment of the new federal wireless law. Hill pleaded not guilty, saying he was unaware that his small station was causing any interference with legitimate business.

Convicted Banker Pardoned.

Trenton, N. J., April 17.—Albert C. Twining was granted a full pardon by the court of pardons. Twining was convicted of fraud in connection with the failure of the First National bank, of Asbury Park, and the Monmouth Trust company. On Feb. 18, 1909, he entered the state prison after five years of fighting in the courts to begin a term of six years. His term would have expired next January.

The board of trade and grange of Billerica, Mass., are offering a prize of $1,000 for an authenticated yield of corn raised during the coming season that will surpass the present New England record, which is 112 bushels, a yield produced by a Connecticut farmer, L. S. White. If a New England town of 3,000 people can find it worth while to hang up such a prize as this it would seem as if most any town in the middle west and south west might do as well or better.

One of the elemental handicaps that wild fowl are sometimes subjected to in their migratory flights in spring was shown in the severe storm which swept down the Missouri river valley some two weeks ago. Wild mallards that were bewildered by the blinding storm had their wings so coated with frozen sleet that they could no longer fly, and a considerable number were picked up in the streets of Council Bluffs, Ia., rendered helpless in the manner mentioned.
